2019–2020
Why Study German?

German is spoken by 95 million people, and is the most widely spoken language in Europe. Germany is a multicultural society, a global economic and scientific hub, and the largest European trading partner with the US. German is indispensable for advanced study in areas such as science and engineering, as well as literature, media, architecture, and cultural globalization. At MIT, are you considering a MISTI internship in either Germany, or Switzerland? German IV (21G.404) or equivalent proficiency is required for participation.

FALL 2019 Tier II

21G.412 Advanced German: Literature and Culture
Provides the opportunity to discuss, orally and in writing, cultural, ethical, and social issues on a stylistically sophisticated level. Explores representative and influential works from the 19th century to the present, through literary texts (prose, drama, poetry), radio plays, art, film, and architecture. Investigates topics such as the human and the machine, science and ethics, representation of memory, and issues of good and evil. HASS-H
TR, 1-2:30, D. Jaeger

21G.420 Visual Histories: German Cinema 1945 to Present
Studies the history, aesthetics, and cultural contexts of German film since the end of World War II. Explores films of “New German Cinema” by Fassbinder, Wenders, Herzog, and others, and investigates the film tradition of East Germany and the internationalization of German cinema since the 1980s. Special thematic focus on the representation of history in film. HASS-A
MW, 7-8:30, K. Fendt

FALL 2019 Tier III

21G.058/418 Migration, Race, and Ethnicity in a New Europe and Germany
Addresses the shifting politics of nation, ethnicity, and race in the context of migration and globalization in Germany and Europe. Provides students with analytical tools to approach global concerns and consider Europe and Germany from cross-cultural and interdisciplinary perspectives. Familiarizes students with the ways in which histories of migration, travel, and colonial encounters shape contemporary Europe. Introduces the concepts of transnationalism, diasporic cultures, racism, ethnicity, asylum, and mobility via case studies and materials, including film, ethnography, fiction, and autobiography. Taught in English w/German Language Option. HASS-H, CI-H
T, 7-10, B. Stoetzer
