Our Mission
MIT Global Languages is an academic unit in the School of Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences (SHASS). The core mission of Global Languages is to prepare students to be engaged global citizens, ready to live and work in an increasingly globalized and multicultural world.

Whether majoring in the sciences, engineering, management, or other fields, today’s students need to be equipped to work in the global context. Global Languages provides a wealth of coursework in language and cultural studies—promoting the critical thinking and communication skills, intellectual curiosity, and cross-cultural understanding that prepare students for this new environment.
