Our Mission

MIT Global Languages is an academic unit in the School of Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences (SHASS). The core mission of Global Languages is to provide students with an MIT-quality education in international languages, cultures, and inter-cultural communication. Committed to excellence in teaching and innovative pedagogies, we broadly aim to advance our students’ academic, career and personal goals. As MIT students pursue an expanding spectrum of international engagements, our classes and immersive international experiences help prepare them to live and work in the diverse and multilingual context of a globalizing world. Embracing a vision of multilingual literacy founded not just on learning new words, but new worlds, 21G serves as a vital component of MIT’s “Global Classroom.”
